

Learn about the website: Facts about Germany

Welcome to the website

Facts about Germany.

The German name of the website is:

Tatsachen über Deutschland.

You opened this website

because you are interested in Germany.

For example:

- in politics
 - in economy
 - in culture and history
 - in media and the people
-

Maybe you would like to learn about:

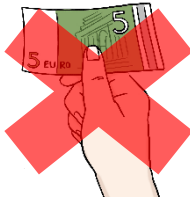

- the job market in Germany
 - the organisation of schools and research
 - how Germany is working for the protection of the climate and the environment.
 - how Germany is working for peace and safety around the world.
-

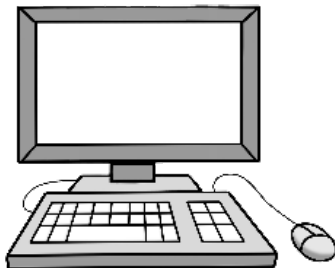

On this website you will find
all about these topics.

We want to offer you
good and correct information
on Germany and the life in Germany.

The website is free to use.
And, there are no ads.

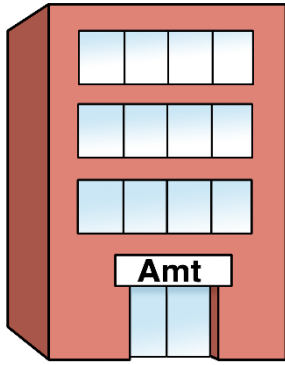

You can read the website
in these different languages:

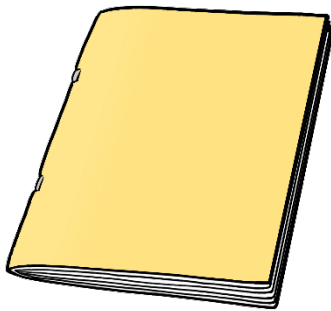

- German
- English
- French
- Spanish
- Portugese
- Russian
- Arabic
- Chinese

If you would like to read the website
in a different language,
you can click on the globe symbol
in the top right corner.

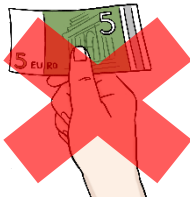

The Federal Foreign Office of Germany looks after Germany's relations with other countries. The Federal Foreign Office ordered this website. The team of Fazit Communication made the website for the Federal Foreign Office.

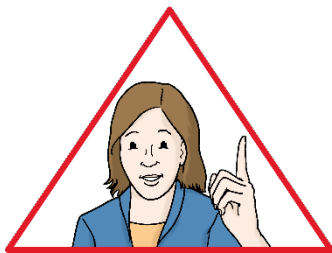

There is also a handbook on the website. The handbook is a text with the most important information on Germany. The handbook is also called: e-paper. An e-paper is a newspaper on the internet.

The handbook is a PDF. A PDF is a special kind of file. You can save the file on your computer. Or you can print it.

The handbook is free.

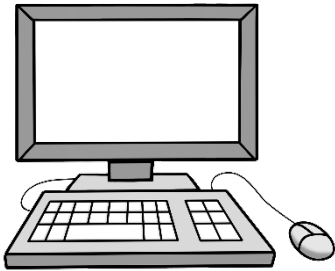

The handbook is available in 15 languages. But it is not available in easy English.

In alth thans roctern d'elqas H' l'agulo r'edcon t'arrat' r'cl non llo ctas le ctap' l'ogap' e' q'ulo' q'as' d' e'arto' ell' r' r'radem' r'eg'ah' s' m' d' mibaca.rivm.nl/uk r'ed'p'ur'at'

When you click on the blue words,
the download page for the handbook will open.

The website has 14 different sections.
For example:

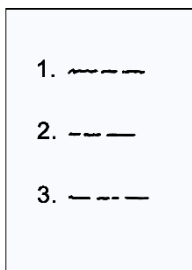

- Germany's political system
- culture and art
- working in Germany
- climate and energy
- migration to Germany

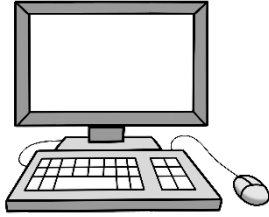

One section is called:
Germany at a glance.
Here, you can find the most important information.

For example on:

- politics
- the landscape
- tips for a trip to Germany

In these sections, you will find many numbers and a lot of information.
There is also information on current topics.
At the top of the website,
there is a list with all sections.
You can find this list at the bottom of the website as well.

On this website there are:

- easy and short texts with information
- pictures with information
- picture series on the history of Germany

We check our information regularly.
This helps to keep the information correct.

Have fun discovering Facts about Germany!